Companies interested in booking for staff / individuals can reserve single sessions in one of our weekly classes by clicking here. This option is great for organizations that want to save precious corporate time without halting daily operations to gather employees for one simultaneous training. With the one-by-one sign up method you do not have to coordinate everyone to be available all at the same time for a CPR training. Single session bookings provide plenty of flexibility, saves your organization money, and keeps the company operating without interruption.
